IT IS CLAIMED IF GREAT BRITAIN
PERSISTS IN ANTI-POLISH ATTITUDE

BRIAND DECLINES CONFERENCE WITH LLOYD GEORGE UNTIL AFTER CONFIDENCE VOTE

WEBB MILLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Premier Lloyd George—"The peace of Europe is threatened by the situation. The Germans have a right to use their forces to preserve order."

Premier Briand—"France could not remain neutral if German forces entered Silesia."

Adelbert Korfanty, Polish leader—"Anarchy will reign if Poland is given less than she demands. If Germans enter they will be slaughtered."

Paris, May 16—Premier Briand will threaten France's withdrawal from the entente if Great Britain persists in her anti-Polish attitude, it was predicted in official circles today.

Briand refused to meet Premier Lloyd George until after obtaining a vote of confidence from the chamber of deputies permitting him to exert utmost pressure.

Briand and Lloyd George will probably hold a private interview at Bologna after the chamber meets Thursday. Lloyd George asked for the conference to settle the differences of the two countries in the Upper Silesian controversy.

It was predicted here that the meeting will be of the stormiest nature, Briand being thoroughly aroused over Lloyd George's statement before the house of commons, a statement made without consulting France's interest.

Briand, it was predicted, will demand that France be supported in her plans to keep the rich coal fields of Silesia away from the Germans. He will go further, it was believed, in demanding that France have a determining voice in settlement of the continental questions involved in the Versailles treaty.

English Press Supports Premier

London, May 16—Premier Lloyd George today drew a unanimous support for his attitude on the Silesian situation from the British press such as the Daily Herald, a radical labor paper, and the Northcliffe papers declared that Lloyd George was right.

The anti-Lloyd George papers and rivals criticized the manner in which his speech was made to the commons. The Times declared that Lloyd George's statement that the Polish lines in Upper Silesia cannot be recognized, undoubtedly shows an anti-Polish bias.

With the exception of the Post violently attacking the premier, the press was united in asserting Poland must quit filibustering.

Anarchy Will Reign in Silesia

Schoppnitz, Upper Silesia, May 16—"Anarchy will reign in Upper Silesia if Germany is permitted to send troops into the country," Adelbert Korfanty, Polish leader, declared today in an interview with the United Press. "The Germans will be slaughtered if they advance," he declared. "A division of Upper Silesia, giving Poland less than she claims, will result in anarchy."

Korfanty said he planned to retire as soon as the allies reach a decision regarding Upper Silesia.

"But if the decision is not just," he declared, "anarchy will follow."

North Dakota Fights Increased Fare Rate

Washington, May 16—North Dakota today asked the supreme court for leave to file original proceedings against all railroads within its boundary in the hope of preventing them from charging the increased intrastate fares recently allowed by the interstate commerce commission.

WANTS AMERICAN HEN PRODUCTS GIVEN PROTECTION

(By United Press)

New York, May 16—The American hen wants protection from foreign competition. According to H. W. Kerrigan, California chicken farmer, the poultry industry in this country, which does an annual business of $1,250,000,000 faces complete demoralization through this invasion.

Kerrigan, who is secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Petaluma, Calif., the chicken center of the United States, is touring the country in an effort to crystallize sentiment for a protective tariff on eggs.

He said hundreds of poultry raisers have been forced out of business.

"That the hen is a real American bird is evident from the fact that poultry is raised on eighty-seven per cent of our farms and three million persons are directly dependent on the industry," he said in an interview today.

"Importation of cheap eggs, especially from China, Australia and Argentina has reached a stage where American poultry raisers will be completely put out of business within two years unless some action is taken."

CARPENTIER ARRIVED TODAY—SAYS HE WILL WIN FIGHT

(United Press)

New York, May 16—Georges Carpentier invaded America today to fight Jack Dempsey for the world's boxing championship.

He looked rather pale and thin as he walked down the gang plank from the liner Savoie shortly after 11 A. M. He was received with cheers by a big crowd on the dock.

"I am going to win this fight," Carpentier said earnestly to the newspaper men who thronged around him.

"I will win no matter how long it lasts, but I hope it is short. The betting in Paris was about fifty-fifty."

Carpentier said he weighed one hundred and seventy-five and that he felt fit. He plans to leave at once for his training camp at Manhasset on Long Island, where light training will be indulged in for eight days after which the challenger will get down to real work.

ALTON FLYER IS WRECKED

PLUNGES INTO OPEN SWITCH GO-ING 50 MILES AN HOUR
—20 INJURED

(By United Press)

Bloomington, Ill., May 16—Investigation into the identity of the plotters who are alleged to have caused the wreck of the "Hummer," the Chicago & Alton crack flyer, was started today.

The "Hummer," going fifty miles an hour, plunged into an open switch at Shirley, Ill., seven miles from here last night.

George Scuttles, fireman, who was pinned under the wreckage of the cab is reported to be fatally injured. Twenty others were hurt.

"It was a deliberate effort to wreck the train," said H. E. Wood, special counsel for the state utilities commission. Wood was on the train.

"The theory of the railroad officials is that the switch was thrown open by some demented person with a grudge against the railroad."

HAYWOOD SAYS HE WILL RETURN

AND SERVE SENTENCE IN LEAV-
ENWORTH AFTER CONVEN-TIONS ARE OVER

(Copyright 1921 by the United Press)

London, May 16—Wm. D. Haywood will return to the United States to serve his twenty year sentence in Leavenworth prison he declared today in an exclusive statement to the United Press from Moscow.

The I. W. W. leader, who disappeared, brought bitter criticism from associates who were also sentenced for hampering the national war activities, said he would return after the third international and other conventions have been held in Moscow. Haywood's bondsmen will not suffer loss he said. Here is Haywood's story:

"On March 3 I retired to the home of a friend in New York. Three weeks later I arrived in Moscow."

"I shall remain here for the convention of the third international and other meetings."

"I will return to the United States. If I cannot return before my bond is cancelled the government may have its equivalent of a pound of flesh which friends deposited for my appearance."

"But my bondsmen will not suffer financial loss from the cancellation of the bond."

(United Press)

Washington, May 16—The validity of the prohibition amendment was reaffirmed by the supreme court today.

All sections of the amendment have been upheld by the court thus making it certain that future attacks will be futile.

Specifically the court upheld the proposal by President Harding while a senator requiring that the states must ratify the amendment within seven years to make it operative.

Attorneys for liquor interests had contended that this requirement was unconstitutional and therefore invalidated the entire amendment.

MINERS' WAR QUIET TODAY

CASUALTY LIST REMAINS THE SAME—SIX DEAD, MANY INJURED

(United Press)

Williamson, W. Va., May 16—Peace hopes in the Mingo county mine war were strong at sun-up today when the snipers' position in the West Virginia hills was quiet.

Authorities however feared more attacks on the half a dozen little mining towns in the Tug river valley might open at any time.

The industrial war between the striking coal miners and the company employees was quieter yesterday than at any time since the desperate engagement began last Thursday morning.

The casualty list of six dead and an indefinite number wounded, was not changed by early reports here today. Arrival in Pike county, Kentucky, of two companies of Kentucky guardsmen quieted the snipers.

Detachments were sent to Albion and McCarr where heavy fighting was in progress last week. Another company was stationed near Merrimac.

A truce in the Albion, Blackberry City and McCarr sections has been arranged.

BARGE SUNK ON LAKE SUPERIOR

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 16—With her boiler rooms knee deep in water, and three firemen fighting desperately to keep steam, the consort Zillah of the Blodgett line arrived at the "Soo" last night, to report the sinking of her barge Miztec, and the almost certain death of six men and a woman aboard.

Those who are believed to have perished when the Miztec broke from the Zillah during a raging blizzard outside Whitefish point, are: Capt. K. Pederson of Buffalo; Florence Pederson, his wife, and steward of the vessel; Mate Robert Campbell, of Tonawanda, N. Y.; Seamen Erick Johnson and Louis Florence of Bay City, Mich.; Seaman John Drocker of Titusville, Pa.; and an unidentified seaman who shipped from Port Huron, Mich.

The barge Peshtigo, also owned by the Blodgett company of Bay City, Mich., was rescued from the battering seas of "The Graveyard" after being adrift for 24 hours, and brought into the "Soo" by the Zillah last night.

All Hope Abandoned

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 16—All hopes have been abandoned for seven members of the crew of the barge Miztec which broke loose from the steamer Zillah off Whitefish point in a snow storm Friday night. The barge Peshtigo which also broke away was picked up Sunday and brought here.

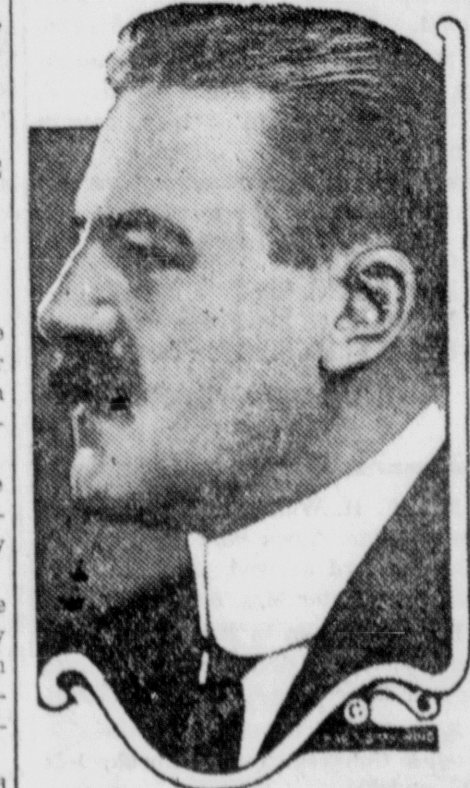

The Miztec carried a captain, a woman cook and five seamen.

ELEVEN ATTEMPTS ARE MADE TO FIRE LONDON BUILDINGS

(United Press)

London, May 16—Raiding of Seln meeting places continued here today as a result of eleven attempts to fire buildings in London and surrounding towns yesterday.

Suspected Sinn Feiners and documents were taken to police stations for careful examination. The discovery of pencilled notes on addresses of relatives of the royal Irish constabulary brought out the first belief that the incendiaries were meant as a reprisal for the constabulary work in Ireland.

Extra police details were on watch today in the district attacked by the incendiaries who were prepared with petrol and inflammable material.

Make Big Clean Up On Railroad Deal

(By United Press)

Madison, Wis., May 16—A buying and selling bluff made by John S. Jones of Columbus, president of the Wisconsin & Northern Railroad company, will net him a profit estimated at $1,500,000, according to former security holders.

Jones, holder of one-third of the outstanding securities in the Wisconsin & Northern railroad, bluffed the owners of the other two-thirds into selling their holdings to him for ten dollars per share. He turned over the stocks to the Soo Line for $25 per share, it is claimed.

Investigation into the deal is being made by the interstate commerce commission at a valuation hearing conducted here by Examiner R. A. Clark.

Efforts to show collusion between Jones and the Soo Line management were made at a hearing which will continue through the week.

Attorney General Wm. J. Morgan entered his appearance at the probe today representing the state. "We want to know whether the Soo Line paid too much for the railroad. The amount paid may be used as a basis for establishing fares in the future," the attorney general explained.

INCREASED VALUE OF NATURAL RE- SOURCES IS PROFIT

SUPREME COURT SO DECIDES IN SUIT BROUGHT BY OWNERS OF MESABA IRON LAND

(United Press)

Washington, May 16—The federal government by a decision of the supreme court today won one of the most important tax suits in recent years when the court held that increased value of natural resources held by a corporation is profit and therefore is taxable as income.

Justice Pitney read the decision of the court. The decision means that many millions of dollars will be kept in the federal treasury, according to government estimates.

The suit was brought by the Labille Iron Works, a West Virginia corporation, when the commissioner of internal revenue imposed a tax on it of more than one million dollars for the increased value of ore lands in the Mesaba iron range.

This was done on the ground that the value of lands which originally cost $190,000 had increased to $10,150,000. The increased value was represented by stock dividends issued by the company increasing its capital by $9,915,400. The increase, the company contended, was not profit, but an increase in investment capital.

Chas. Evans Hughes, now secretary of state, argued the case of the company.

Parents to Blame For Runaway Daughters

(By United Press)

Chicago, May 16—Blame for runaway daughters was placed squarely on the shoulders of parents today by Mrs. Alice Clemons, Chicago's famous police woman.

Mrs. Clemons issued a warning to the nation's parents to prevent their girls from leaving home. Girls suffer from restlessness and disappear in greater numbers than ever before. Two hundred cases of missing girls have been reported to Chicago police this spring.

This advice was given by Mrs. Clemons who is herself the mother of three grown up daughters.

Do not take every cent of your daughter's income when she starts working. Demand reasonable amount for board and room and give them plenty of spending money. The girls want pretty things. If they cannot buy them out of their income they will get them some other way. Parents should fix up their homes so the daughters will not be ashamed to entertain their gentlemen friends at home. Unless this is done the girl will run away to a boarding house where men callers can be entertained. A girl should be guided by kindness, not driven.

Once Famous for Embroidery.

St. Gall, Switzerland, is the noted embroidery seat of modern days, and one of the most influential centers of Christian civilization in central Europe. The city owes its foundation to the Irish apostle Gallus, who in the year 614 founded a hermitage near the brook Steinach. In the resulting monastery of St. Gall the strict rules of the Irish church were enforced until 720, when those of St. Benedict were substituted by an abbot, Othmar. In 1061 the Abbot Norpert of St. Gall erected a convent on the Sitter river, the place taking the name of Abbatiss Cella-Apenzell, and the abbess of St. Gall became the dominating influence of the land until the subsequently much impressed mountaineers resorted to force and succeeded in shaking off their yoke.

Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees Entertained at Home of Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus

The Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees was entertained at the home of the commander, Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus on Thursday afternoon, May 12, Messdames Dieckhaus, Wolfert, Prickett being hostesses for the Social club of the association. There was a large attendance of the members and also friends of the association and each one present expressed their pleasure of having spent such an enjoyable afternoon.

On Tuesday afternoon, May 17th, the guard team will meet at Elks hall for the purpose of drilling. The local review team is working diligently as they have been invited to assist in putting on the work at the state rally which is to be held at Bemidji on May 31st. This is not only an honor to the local organization but Brainerd should feel honored to have one of its fraternal orders well represented at such a rally where reviews from the entire northern half of the state will congregate.

At the next regular meeting to be held at Elks hall, on Wednesday evening, May 25th, a musical program will be given and light refreshments will be served. The program committee has already secured many numbers from local talent so that the program promises to be an interesting one. To this program, which will be announced later, the public in general is most cordially invited and a small sum will be charged for admission. The proceeds from the program will be used to help defray expenses of sending the team to Bemidji.

The membership campaign of the local review is still on and any member who has a prospective candidate in view will kindly get in touch with the local deputy, Mrs. Jennie Prickett, and she will arrange to call on the party.

DENTAL CLINIC

Care of Teeth Important, Clinic at High School on Monday, May 23

All temporary teeth that are abraded must be removed. There must be no delay. Harmless abscesses do not exist. If your child is carrying poison in its mouth and you know it, are you willing to assume the responsibility when the little one suffers from systematic infection, or do you expect to place the blame upon an all-wise "providence." Every child's mouth should be examined at frequent intervals to find out whether, or not there is decay or infection or both.

In many cities and towns, both in this country and in Europe there are public school clinics where the children's mouths are examined and where reparative work is done. In many states the public health boards send out dental clinic committees to examine the mouths of their children in the country and small town districts so that the parents may be informed on the conditions that are present in the mouths of their children. The interest in these clinics are very great. In January, 1920, an examination clinic was being held by the Minnesota Public Health association in a far northern district, where the temperature was below zero and the snow was two feet deep. One school twenty miles away bundled up three hobbled loads of little tots and sent them to be examined. The people of that kind of a district appreciate their children and are going to raise them up to be strong, healthy citizens. These clinics are for the purpose of informing the parents of what should be done and the parents can take the child to the dentist of their choice and have the child's mouths put in order.—Copied from the Minnesota Public Health Journal.

Brainerd will have a dental clinic, May 23rd, to be held at the high school. Mothers are also invited to bring children who are not of school age.

Playing Cards.

Although it is commonly reported that playing cards were invented in France in 1592 to divert Charles VI, D'Allemagne, a French writer on the subject, mentions them as being in use in Belgium in 1379, and probably something analogous to them—marked discs or counters—have been employed in the East from remote antiquity. It is now usually thought that it was in Italy playing cards were first made, about 1370, and at Venice.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

She Kept Her Locks Dark and Glossy With Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. At little cost, you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

AMUSEMENTS

Double Feature Program at the Lyceum

Tom Mix, his trusty "six", his latest and his famous horse will be the feature attraction at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Tuesday, in "Hands Off" which report says is one of the breeziest action pictures that this William Fox western star has appeared in. It is a story of Texas from a novel by William McLeod Raine and was directed by George E. Marshall.

From the time Mix tosses his hat into the picture while watching a duel between two tarantulas on the Texas sands until the final fadeout, the picture is packed with speedy action.

Mix takes the part of a roving cowpuncher who drops into the fighting frontier town of Tascosa in time to become mixed up in a number of stirring adventures, including a gang fight, a bank robbery, an attempted lynching, a murder and a stampede of wild horses—quite enough to keep even him busy.

Pauline Curley, though only sixteen years old, is Mix's leading woman, and has a very charming part in Ramona, a ranchman's daughter.

Buster Keaton the sober-faced comedian is also appearing in feature comedy entitled "The Haunted House."

Olle i Skratthult

The Marquette Mining Journal, Marquette, Mich., had the following to say regarding the Olle i Skratthult company, which will show at Gardner auditorium, Sunday, May 22: "An audience which completely filled Liberty hall gathered last evening to witness the performance of the Swedish 3-act comedy Lars Anders an' Jan Anders, which was presented by Olle i Skratthult and company. The play was greatly enjoyed, and the audience kept in continual laughter while songs, folk dances and accordion music were pleasing diversions."

"Slave of Vanity"

In the opinion of critics, Miss Pauline Frederick, the foremost emotional actress of the screen, is at her best in "A Slave of Vanity", which opened tonight at the New Park theatre for a run of two days. The picture is a film version of "Iris", the famous drama written several years ago by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero and produced in England and America.

The story of "A Slave of Vanity" tells of a beautiful young widow who loses all of the wealth left her by her husband if she remarries. She has always been used to luxury and affluence and when a young man of small means pleads for her hand, she is afraid to step from her gilded throne to the humble atmosphere which his income calls for. She is forced to admit she loves him but is afraid she will be dissatisfied and make him unhappy. The young man goes away to make a fortune and she promises to wait. What transpires in the meantime is highly interesting and makes a delightful picture.

In the cast with Miss Frederick are Nigel Barrie, Willard Louis, Maude Louis, Daisy Robinson, Arthur Hoyt, Ruth Handforth and Howard Gaye.

Many Substitutes for Tea.

There are more than 30 plants used in different parts of the world as substitutes for tea. One of them comes from the dried leaves of a fragrant orchid, a parasite like the mistletoe, and allied to the well-known vanilla of the odor of which it reminds us. The Africans have long used its leaves as medicine, and the infusion of them as a drink. Its taste is something between vanilla and bitter almonds.

OLD MUSIC AND NEW

One of the interesting phases of the present reaction against jazz in music, art and life, is seen in the revival of old light operas which is going on in many cities. Robin Hood, The Mikado, The Fortune Teller, The Serenade are being given here and there by professionals and amateurs, to houses not only crowded but so delighted that, as the reviewer says in a typical instance, "the opera was practically given twice, so insistent was the audience upon encores." In another case, a man asked at the office how long the show would last. "As long as the audience will stand for it," was the cheerful reply, "and they seem to be standing for a good deal of it."

Why is the old stuff so attractive? Because it is really and fundamentally good, the music critics say. The books, particularly those written by Gilbert and those by Harry Smith, are full of clever lines which do not age. The music is not cheap stuff, a patchwork of stolen themes, clap-trap harmonies and jazzy rhythms, trying to make up with barbaric noise what it lacks in civilized ideas, as is the case with the latest musical comedies. The Sullivan music, the DeKoven music, the Victor Herbert music is found in structure, clever in its characterization, just as funny in the way it is built and the way it fits the lines as anything in the lines themselves. The Mikado is particularly rich in tiny bits of musical burlesque, as humorous to the musician as the whole ridiculous plot to the play-lover. Robin Hood has enough really good, original music to furnish forth a dozen modern musical shows. Victor Herbert's outstanding characteristic is his exceptionally rich and glowing orchestration.

The people who compose the audience seldom realize these musical beauties on the technical side, as professional musicians do. But they do realize that here is freshness to cheer their jaded palates. Here are rosy apples and popcorn before an autumn fire, after the hothouse air of jazzy restaurants.

There is nothing sexy or unpleasant in any of these operas. They are so full of good stuff that they do not have to rely on vice or falsity for their appeal. Their fun is riotous, friendly fun, without a particle of sting or dark brown taste next morning. The delight of audiences in these revivals is one of the most wholesome signs of the times.—Exchange.

COMMUNICATION

Brainerd, Minn., May 10, 1921

Editor Dispatch:

Like your correspondent, C. E. H., in the Dispatch of May 6th, I am a subscriber and have also been reading the articles appearing from time to time to which he refers.

I am glad to see these matters brought out for consideration and believe much good may come from it if they receive the consideration that should be given them.

But I cannot agree with C. E. H., altogether, nor let his statement pass unchallenged where he says, "No one is to blame but the parents."

I am sure of one thing, however, and that is, that he is not as old a man as I; neither has he raised a family of children old enough to go out to public dances.

I am not condemning dances altogether. It is the extremes to which everything is carried in these times, both in time and in degree that makes perhaps the greatest evil. Such extremes will and surely do, make many things that, in themselves, used or exercised in simplicity and moderation, might be of great good, to become great evils, moral poisons, destructive of the very results or effects they were supposed or expected to bring about.

It is hard to have to say it, but the majority of parents know it to be true, that the tendency of what is called "progress" or "civilization," as our school education and training, our clubs and orders, and all social organizations of younger or older people, are taking from and really undermining the parental and home influence. The parents of large families know and feel that they are increasingly more helpless in influencing, not to say controlling, their younger children as soon as they reach the school age than they were their first and older children.

The environment, and especially the social environment outside of the home, is having a more determining influence on character and habits today than ever before in the history of the civilized world; and a crying need of the times is for a more individual consciousness of responsibility for the nature of this social environment.

As population draws to a center, organization becomes a necessity; and the fundamental function of such organization is to nourish and preserve in its members, the social and moral sense, the only true bond of society. And this is accomplished much more effectively through proper attention to the social and ethical affairs of life, including certain regulation of habit in public, which means almost everything in the formation of character, than by such exclusive devotion to the material side and "property rights" of the past. As declared by the Great Teacher, "These (first mentioned, or in the words of the text, justice, judgment and the love of God) ought ye to have done, and not to have left the other undone."

The government of a village or city, represented by the mayor and police,

ROUGH WEATHER USHERS IN FISHING

Snow and Wind and Far from Balm
Weather Kept the Fish at Home in the Morning

WARMED UP IN THE AFTERNOON

Some Good Catches of Pike Recorded
North of Gull Lake and Out at
Mille Lacs Lake

Hook and line fishing day started out with a snow storm in Crow Wing county, but that did not deter the fishermen. Some reported good catches, other got wet. Here follow a list of some of the experiences:

C. G. Miller and son Adren, Cliff Russell and nephew Winfred Russell went to Lake Margaret, 20 miles from Brainerd, and caught 16 pike, 8 crappies and 4 bullheads. They did not venture out in the cold weather of the morning. Their best fishing "ticks" were staged in the afternoon around 3 o'clock when the fish warmed up enough to swim around. Their exploits took place at John Carlson's summer resort.

Joe Hebert of the Iron Exchange barber shop did not go fishing. He planted nine bushels of Carmen No. 1 potatoes at his home.

A. P. Cardie, deputy game warden, did not go fishing. With ice on some of the lakes, Mr. Cardie said it might be necessary to sell fishhouse licenses in order to permit fishing through the ice.

O. E. Hickethier and wife, Ted Krause and wife, Bert Krause, R. E. Stephenson and wife fished at Lake Marjorie and secured 30 pike. Mrs. Ted Krause made the best individual record.

Dr. A. K. Cohen, of this city, and Fred McKenzie and George Knick of Minneapolis reported the best luck. They fished near St. Albans on Mille Lacs lake on Sunday afternoon and landed 32 fine pike. McKenzie and Knick became so enthused with their fishing that they nearly upset the boat landing their first catches.

Ed Stallman and party had hard luck. They believed the early bird catches the first worm and they ventured out on Mille Lacs lake near Midland at 6 o'clock Sunday morning. Along came a snow storm, blizzard, wind, etc., and their hands nearly froze to the oars. They beat it for shore and for home without a fish. Nine other boats out on the lake made for shore to escape disaster.

Alderman Andrew Anderson caught four pike at Gull lake near Squaw Point.

A. A. Gieriet, so the report goes, went fishing up a trout stream and landed two pickerel. However, everything was fish that came in Andy's way and he took the pickerel.

B. A. Lagerquist, fishing at Squaw Point, Gull lake, caught a nice mess of pike and remembered many of his friends in town with fish.

John, Mike and Pete Goedderz and Bill McGarry were fishing at Midland, on Mille Lacs lake, and caught 15 pike. They started their operations at 10 o'clock in the morning. It was cold, but what does a fisherman care for cold or wet as long as the fishing is good.

HARDWARE DIET NOT FATAL

Convict, Refused Parole, Eats Pins, Wire and a Drill.

Angry because a legislative committee failed to recommend his parole after visiting the penitentiary at Santa Fe, N. M., Charles Kennedy, convict, serving time for jail breaking and a veteran of three wars, swallowed two pieces of baling wire, several inches long, a pin, a safety pin and a steel drill three inches long. The prison physician after examination with a fluoroscope said Kennedy would suffer no ill-effects, the metal articles having passed through his stomach without difficulty.

Kennedy says he has chewed up and swallowed two electric light globes since he has been in prison, and since he was twenty-one years old has chewed up and swallowed six whisky glasses on bars. He claims that by thoroughly breaking up brittle glass in his mouth until it is powdered he can swallow it without injury.

He served at Portres Monroe in the coast artillery in the Great war and also in the Spanish war and Mexican border actions.

Fisherman Decided on Honesty Course.

Declaring that he had just made a decision to be "strictly honest," a fisherman enclosed with his letter a check for $4.50 made payable to the Oregon game commission to cover the fee for fishing license for three years.

Forbidding Name.

A little fellow who had been to the museum was asked by his mother if he remembered the names of any of the animals he had seen. "Yes," he replied, "most of the animals were named 'do not touch.'"—Boston Transcript.

TOBACCO PLANT BORN TO ORDER

Developed According to Specifications Listed in Advance.

HARVARD EXPERT IS PARENT

New Plant Is Cigar-Wrapper Tobacco Combining Desirable Qualities of Several Existing Varieties and None of Their Defects and Possessing Several Worth-While Characteristics Unknown in the Older Varieties.

What is claimed to be the first plant actually made to order according to specifications listed in advance, has been developed by Prof. Edward M. East of Harvard for the Connecticut agricultural experiment station at New Haven, Conn.

The new plant, known as "Round Tip," is a cigar-wrapper tobacco combining, it is claimed, the desirable qualities of several existing varieties and none of their defects and possessing several worth-while characteristics unknown in the older varieties. It was produced by a scientific application of the laws of heredity, with the investigation of which Professor East has been identified for many years.

New varieties of plants are not particularly rare, it is said, and new names for old varieties are as common as freckles on a red-headed boy, but in the past, according to the Harvard biologists, the new things in the plant world have been more or less accidental. Crosses, they say, have been made indiscriminately, trusting to Providence that something good would turn up, and occasionally Providence has come to the rescue.

"Building" a Wrapper.

In this case a study of cigar leaf wrappers was made, and the characteristics demanded by grower, manufacturer and consumer were set down as cold-bloodedly as a builder would plan the requirements for a house. Existing varieties were then examined in the field and in the warehouse with the minutest care, seeking those which when combined would give the greatest possible chance of success. Finally it was decided the success of the project depended on crossing the two varieties, Sumatra and broadleaf.

"The Round Tip," said Professor East, "has the large leaf and the close arrangement of leaves characteristic of the broadleaf variety. The leaves grow upright, as do those of the Sumatra, thus eliminating the loss from torn leaves which so often results from the drooping leaves of the other parent. The leaf is even broader than the Sumatra, and so increases the yield of cigar wrappers. Since the broadleaf is too thick and has too pronounced a flavor for most smokers, and since the Sumatra is too thin and has no flavor, the new tobacco was made intermediate in these respects. Finally the Round Tip develops six or seven more leaves than the old varieties, possesses a wonderful root system, making it stand up under winds that lay other tobaccos low, and has a resistance to root rot which came to it by accident rather than by design.

Has Three Years' Test.

"The Round Tip has been distributed to Connecticut tobacco growers by Dr. Donald F. Jones, a former pupil at Harvard, who is now connected with the Connecticut agricultural experiment station. It has had three years' test and has been reported on by some forty-odd planters.

"Crops of 2,800 pounds per acre, double the yield of ordinary varieties, have been obtained under exceptional conditions, and on the average 2,000 pounds may be confidently expected. But what pleases us most is that by this experiment we have demonstrated that the true fundamental principles of plant breeding which we have spent years in studying can be applied to a specific problem with such useful results."

Professor East holds the chair of experimental plant morphology at the Bussey Institution, the department of Harvard university devoted to research and instruction in applied biology. He is the author of several volumes of technical papers on heredity, and in collaboration with Doctor Jones published a work on the effects of "Inbreeding and Outbreeding" in animals and plants, and the bearing of the results on the upbuilding of nations.

CRUSOE'S ISLAND RESORT

Place to Be Converted Into Health Center by Chilean Government.

Juan Fernandez island 450 miles west of Valparaiso, widely regarded as the spot around which the story of Robinson Crusoe was written, is to be turned into a health resort, according to present plans of the Chilean government.

The island is 13 miles long and 4 miles wide. Vegetation is abundant. Many kinds of fruit thrive there, and the sea in the vicinity swarms with a species of codfish and quantities of seals. Some years ago the Chilean government attempted to colonize the island, giving free passage to emigrants, but the scheme was a failure and the island now has only 200 inhabitants.

NEHF FOOLED JOHNNY EVERS

Cub Manager Doesn't Wonder Murphy Tied Can to Him When South-paw Makes Good.

Art Nehf, rated as one of the good southpaws in the National league made his first big league appearance under Johnny Evers, when the Cral was managing the Cubs. That is, he made his appearance in the ball park, but never played a game there. He reported in the morning, and was released in the afternoon. Evers told him that he would never make a big league ball player.

When Johnny was captaining the Braves a year or so later and Nehf joined that club, Manager Stallings introduced the latter to Evers.

"So I told you that you'd never make a big leaguer, eh?" quoth Jawn. "It's no wonder Charley Murphy tied the can to me."

Flanders War Orphans Make Poppies for American-Franco Children's League

Some of the children who made the poppies with which the American and French hero dead will be honored on Memorial Day.

On a day early this spring the ruins of an old chapel in Flanders buzzed with the hum of unusual activity. Children, some frail and rather worn, and women whose faces were lined and whose shoulders were bent, came from cellars, homes and impoverished dwellings and gathered at a broken stairway leading to a chapel vestibule.

Then came a man, who held up a hand that hushed them into silence, and said: "My children, the privilege of helping France has come to us in our weakness and our poverty. We are to have the honor of making the flower that will be worn in both America and France in memory of the beloved ones who gave their lives while fighting on our soil." She told them of the "Wear a Poppy" movement, which had met with general approval, and of the adoption by patriotic societies of both nations of the red poppy of Flanders Fields as the tribute flower to be worn on Memorial Day.

The women and children set to work. Since then millions of replicas in silk of the Flanders poppy have been made and shipped to America. They will be worn on Memorial Day, and the proceeds from their sale will go to the American-Franco Children's League, an organization of men and women prominent in the philanthropic work of both nations, to be used in relief work among the children in the war torn areas of France. The movement has been endorsed by the National Information Bureau, in this country, and by President Millerand, of France.

ROOF GARDEN TOPS A FOREST HOTEL

Surprise Awaits the Summer Tourists at the New Grand View Lodge Hotel at Gull Lake

ALPINE HOTEL MADE OF LOGS

Built on a High Terrace Overlooking Gull Lake, One of Best Fishing Lakes in State

One hardly would expect to find a full-fledged roof garden in full operation at a resort in the heart of the northern pine woods, yet such a surprise will greet visitors to the New Grand View Lodge, on Gull lake, 15 miles Northeast of Brainerd.

This resort, which will open June 1, has been put in better shape than ever before, and M. V. Baker, proprietor, promises that the present season will be the liveliest ever known in that section.

The large Alpine hotel is constructed entirely of logs and is said to be the finest of its kind in the entire state. It replaces the smaller hotels which Mr. Baker has operated in the same place for the last five years and where thousands of men and women who enjoy the best kind of fishing have spent their vacations. Hunting, bathing and outdoor life generally is enjoyed to the full at this lodge.

Owing to the ever-increasing popularity of the place, larger quarters were found necessary, and the new hotel will have accommodations for 160 guests this season. In addition, there will be the twenty sleeping cottages operated in connection with the hotel. Everything will be run on the American plan.

Grand View Lodge is built on a high terrace overlooking Gull lake, one of the most beautiful and best fishing lakes in Minnesota. It has 120 feet of wide porches, a spacious lounging room, with huge stone fireplaces, office and stands in rustic design, handsomely decorated with Indian designs; mounted specimens of wood animals, birds and fish will adorn the walls.

The dining room has a seating capacity of 200, and is lighted by an almost solid unit of French windows on either side.

The uncommon and unique feature of this hotel in the wilderness is its roof garden, with 7,000 feet of floor space, which will be given over to dancing, refreshments, athletics, etc. The resort was built to conform to the delightful combination of wilderness and rusticity of the region roundabout, and to welcome the fisherman, the tourist, the hunter and the summer sojourner. It is a place to rest and to rusticate, a place where enough active amusements may be found to keep mind and body in a healthy condition.

U. S. HOLDS CUP FOR FIVE YEARS

(By United Press)

London, May 14—Polo used to be considered by the British only as an amusement of the idle rich or pastime for dashing young cavalry officers who had nothing else to do.

But since the American team arrived here to compete for the international cup in a series of matches starting June 18, at Hurlingham, polo has become a general topic of the streets.

The international cup is one of the few sport trophies symbolic of world superiority that remains in British hands and the effort of the Americans to take the prize back will be one of the biggest sporting events of the year.

Every seat of the 10,000 has been sold and the committee is planning now to erect new stands to accommodate those who are willing to pay from $25 to $150 for a seat.

The list of box holders reads like a roll call of British royalty, nobility, army, society and fashion leaders.

The international contests between England and America date back to 1886 when a Hurlingham team, captained by the great Irish sportsman, the late John Watson, visited America to compete for a cup presented by the Westchester club. England won both matches played and returned in triumph with the cup.

Not until 1900 did America challenge but then a scratch team, wholly unrepresentative of America, failed dismally to recover the cup.

In 1902 the American Polo association issued a formal challenge and sent over a team, which, however, was equally unsuccessful.

In 1909 Harry Payne Whitney's "Big Four" gained a sensational victory over the best team England could produce and carried the cup back to the United States.

There it remained until 1914, although in 1911 an English team led by Captain Hardross Lloyd made an unsuccessful invasion and two years later the Duke of Westminster's team also failed.

Just before the outbreak of the war, however, Major Barrett's team, including Major Vivian Lockett, Col. H. A. Tompkinson, the late Captain Leslie Cheake, who was killed in battle, and Lieut. F. M. Freake, snatched the spoils for England, thanks largely to the splendid ponies collected and purchased through the generosity of Lord Winborne, ex-Viceroy of Ireland and a noted polo player.

Although the Meadowbrook "Big Four" has disappeared from the game the British polo authorities took no chances in preparing to defend the cup against America's present combination. The Hurlingham Club, England's governing body for polo, under the presidency of Field Marshal Haig, appointed a special "Defense Committee" under the chairmanship of Major-General John Vapfian, who raised the polo teams of the 7th and 10th Hussars to an extraordinary pitch of efficiency.

This committee set about accumulating the best ponies obtainable from a special fund of 12,000 pounds raised for the purchase of desirable animals. The polo enthusiasts of Great Britain and India placed their choicest mounts at the disposal of the committee and the fifty animals thus gathered were sent down to Tidworth, on Salisbury Plains, the cavalry headquarters of the southern command where they have been training all winter under the supervision of the noted horse-master, Lieut. Col. E. Brown, of the Dragoon Guards.

ADVERTISE IN THE DISPATCH

Study of "Instinct."

It is a matter of some dispute just to what extent the actions of animals are determined by pure unreasoning instinct. It has been stated that a frog will snap at any small moving object regardless of its character, and of hunger or satiety. Some experiments seem to indicate that the frog is capable of greater discriminations than has been credited to him. Thus, for example, a frog was offered hairy caterpillars, which it promptly seized, and with equal promptness spit out again. But after about four to seven such injudicious attempts the frog had learned his lesson, and thereafter refused similar fare. In another experiment earthworms were so connected with a source of electricity that the frog received a shock on touching the worm. The frog duly devoured the prey, and showed no sign of discomfort. However, he refused for seven days to touch another earthworm. Similarly, the frog would be taught to avoid worms in which oil of cloves had been spread, although such "doctored" prey was not spit out, but only digested.

Roman Baths Overpraised.

The baths of ancient Rome so wonderfully pictured by painters and story tellers, do not compare favorably with the modern bath. Judged by standards prevailing before the coming of Christ these baths were wonderful, but measured by standards of today the glories of Rome, marks of the highest degree of civilization in the ancient world, would be declared unsanitary and likely be condemned as menaces to the health of users.

We Add 50 Cents to Each Dollar Invested by An Employee

RECENTLY the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) announced a plan under which it is possible for its 25,000 employees to become partners in the business on a very attractive basis.

The publisher of a small newspaper, unacquainted with the motives which animate the seven men who direct the operation of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), wrote an editorial in which he questioned the motives of this Company, and intimated that the plan was a scheme whereby the Company aimed to benefit by getting in this additional capital.

To set right this publisher, and any one else interested, the Company deems it advisable to direct attention to two outstanding features of this plan which are illuminating in this instance.

First, that to every dollar paid by the employee for the purchase of stock, the Company adds, as a gift, 50c.

Second, that participation in the plan is not obligatory, and that in no case is an employee permitted to pay in more than twenty percent of his earnings.

In formulating the employee partnership plan, the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) was inspired solely by the idea of benefiting those employees who wish, through systematic saving, to become partners in the business. It believes that the man who works and saves is climbing upward, but that the man who invests his savings wisely is climbing faster. It believes that the employee who has money invested in the business is freer of mind, more contented, and more productive than if this anchor to windward did not exist.

The idea of employee ownership of industry is in line with modern tendencies. The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has always been a progressive organization. Its willingness to receive new ideas has put it in the lead in the petroleum industry.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has developed an efficient, enthusiastic body of workers. Every employee, from the Chairman of the Board of Directors to the man who drives a tank wagon, is working steadfastly to serve the public to the best of his ability.

It is the recognition of this fact that prompted the Board of Directors to inaugurate the plan which enables the employee—whatever his position may be—to become a partner—a factor in the business.

John Benjamin, Transient from Duluth, Charged With Stealing Tires from Herb Peterson

BURIED TIRES ARE RECOVERED

Fifteen Located in a Barn of Farmer Near Grave Lake, Benjamin Charged with Peddling Loot

John Benjamin, charged with grand larceny, was in court Monday morning and was bound over to the district court. He is a transient from Duluth, who confessed to having been in town ten days, and during that time according to police records, as stated by Policeman Erick Graff, the man is charged with taking tires concealing the loot in various places ranging from West Brainerd, near the poor farm and then in a barn at the farm of Paul Gooler near Grave Lake.

Tires were reported stolen from Herbert Peterson on May 8 and since then the police have searched for clues. Recently a man named Holstad drove to town from Mille Lacs lake and on the back seat of his car reposed a tire which Peterson identified as his own. Holstad, according to the police, said he had bought it from Benjamin, and that the latter had been peddling tires throughout the countryside.

With this as the start of a clue, the police scanned the whole countryside and at the farm of Paul Gooler found 15 tires stored in an old barn. Gooler, according to the police, said the tires had been stored there by Benjamin.

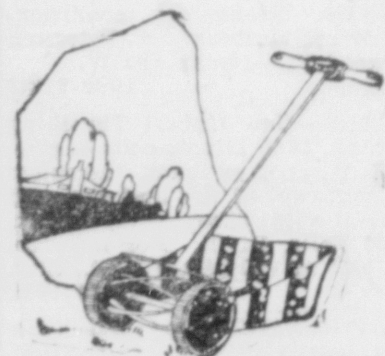

Peterson claimed five Diamond tires had been stolen from his garage and C. A. Stadibauer said he had lost one. Benjamin is a man about 30 to 35 years old, smooth faced and a good talker.

BRAINERD GROCERY COMPANY

Fifty Watches Were Found by Police in His Room at Chicago Hotel in Minneapolis

Martin Sorenson, indicted with a man who confessed, on the charge of robbing the Brainerd Grocery company, has been found active in Minneapolis where the Minneapolis Tribune states he had his room at the Chicago hotel lined with fifty watches. He was arrested as a robber suspect.

After a sidewalk struggle which attracted the attention of several hundred persons in the downtown district, Detectives Michael Duffy and James McGuire arrested Martin Sorenson, 24 years old, of Brainerd, Minn., as a robber suspect late yesterday.

He was said to have admitted robbing a general store at Randolph, Minn., last night, and also to have admitted that he was the man wanted for robbing a grocery store at Brainerd a year ago.

The arrest of Sorenson came about after he had sold several watches to a pawnbroker. As he emerged from the pawnshop the detectives undertook to arrest him and a desperate struggle resulted before he was subdued.

Fifty watches were reported to have been found later in his room at the Chicago hotel.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

One man's Sunday fishing trip was almost ruined when he drove out and back in his flivver and the engine gave a peculiar noise which convinced the driver that the engine was due for some kind of an upheaval. Nevertheless, the driver continued and got home safely. Arriving at his domicile he parked his Ford and then glanced at the front end and there was the crank which had rapped the car every time he went over a bump.

The fishing stories today revolve mostly on the point of how the fisherman "almost" caught a big one.

OUR SCENIC JEWELS

The Giant Geyser, Yellowstone.

BY GILBERT GROSVENOR,
President, the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.

The national parks of the United States, mecca for thousands of tourists this summer, contain more features of conspicuous grandeur than are accessible in all the other continents.

Leaving the masterful Mississippi valley and journeying westward, we soon enter the region of the national parks, of which there are nine of the first order: the Yellowstone national park, principally in Wyoming; the Glacier national park in Montana; the Rocky Mountain and Mesa Verde national parks in Colorado; the Crater Lake national park in Oregon; the Mount Rainier national park in Washington; the Yosemite and Sequoia national parks in California; and the Grand Canyon park in Arizona, the scenic masterpiece of the world, officially dedicated in 1920. Each park has its own individuality, and each in its specialty excels.

Foremost in interest in the Yellowstone are the geysers, of which "Old Faithful" ranks first, not because of size, for the Giant is a Goliath beside it; not because of beauty, for there are others more beautiful; but because of fidelity. It never disappoints. It is so regular that it could almost serve as the nation's standard time-piece. Every 70 minutes "Old Faithful" shoots its great column of water heavenward. At each eruption it sends up into the air 1,500,000 gallons of water.

One writer has described the geyser basins "as laboratories and kitchens, in which, amid a thousand retorts and pots, we may see Nature at work as chemist or cook, cunningly compounding an infinite variety of mineral messes; bubbling mountains, boiling and steaming flinty rocks to smooth paste and mush—yellow, brown, red, pink, lavender, gray and creamy white—making the most beautiful mud in the world, and distilling the most ethereal essences."

Glacier Park, Top of Continent.

The situation of Glacier national park is unique, in that it mothers streams which flow into three out of five of the earth's great oceans. It may well claim to be the top of the continent, for its rivers drain into Hudson bay and the Arctic ocean, into the Pacific, and through the Missouri and the Mississippi into the Atlantic.

The Glacier national park was made by the earth cracking in some far-distant time and one side thrusting up and over-lapping the other. It has cliffs several thousand feet high, and more than sixty glaciers feed hundreds of lakes. One lake floats icebergs all summer. The scenery is truly Alpine.

Lake St. Mary's, Lake McDermott and Lake McDonald are the peers of any of the mountain lakes of Switzerland and Italy. This park covers an area of 1,534 square miles, and maintains such an excellent chain of chalets, hotels and trails that the tourist can see its many attractions in comfort.

The Rocky Mountain national park straddles the continental divide at a lofty height, with snow-capped mountains extending from end to end. This park is in the heart of the Rockies northwest of Denver, with Long's peak as its center. It was established by congressional enactment in 1915. Estes park, the gateway to this mountain playground, is a beautiful little valley town nestled at the foot of the ridge, and yet itself more than a mile and a half above sea-level. Long's peak is nearly three miles high, and has several neighbors that run it a close second.

Home of the Aborigines.

The Mesa Verde national park hides in its barren canyons the well-preserved ruins of a civilization which passed out of existence so many centuries ago that not even tradition recalls its people.

Here one may study the modes of life of the prehistoric American as they can be studied in few places. These aborigines had their civic center and they had some progressive ideas in city planning. Community life was the order of those times. One house had 200 rooms for family use and 22 for worship. Another one sheltered 350 aborigines.

Mount Rainier seems to keep perpetual guard over Seattle, Tacoma and Olympia. Anyone who has beheld its many moods, who has watched the ever-changing picture as varying lights have played upon its summit, who has coasted on its glacial rivers, can understand why the Indians called it "Tahoma—the mountain that was god."

Mt. Rainier has a glacier system exceeding in size that of any other single mountain within continental United States. From its summit and cirque 29 named and a number of unnamed rivers of ice pour slowly down its sides. These rivers of ice have carved on what was once a perfect cone 14 valleys through the solid rock. A bird's-eye view taken from above the mountain would show it to be covered by an enormous frozen octopus, stretching icy tentacles down among the rich gardens of wild flowers and through forests of fir and cedar.

Switzerland, the playground of Europe, visited annually (until 1915) by more than 100,000 Americans, cannot compare in attractiveness with the High Sierra of central California. Nothing in the Alps can rival the famous Yosemite valley, which is as unique as the Grand canyon. The view from the summit of Mt. Whitney surpasses that from any of the peaks of Switzerland.

Wonderful Birds and Flowers.
And then, as to birds and flowers, the High Sierras so excel the Alps that there is no comparison. Never will the writer forget the melodies of the birds and the luxuriance of the meadows passed in the marches from Redwood Meadow to Mineral King, and then up over Franklin Pass; the fields of blue, red, yellow, orange, white and purple flowers, all graceful and fragrant, or the divine dignity of the great Siberian plateau, nearly 11,000 feet above the sea, and yet carpeted from end to end with blue lupine and tiny flowers.

From the educational point of view, the High Sierras so surpass the Alps that again no comparison can be made. In one day's ascent we observed fauna and flora to see the equivalent of which on the Atlantic coast we would have to make a journey of perhaps 1,500 miles. When we started in the morning we were hearing birds that correspond to the latitude of Charleston, S. C.; in a few hours we had traveled northward to Newfoundland and Labrador, and then descended to camp amid feathered friends whose counterparts are found around the writer's farm near Washington, D. C. A day later we ascended Mt. Whitney, the highest peak in the United States, and had a glimpse of birds of the arctic zone.

Oldest of Living Things.
Within the boundaries of the Yosemite and Sequoia national parks tower the oldest of living things—the Sequoia gigantea.

It is an unusual experience to stand under these big trees, to gaze upon their stately proportions, to reflect upon the storms and stress they have survived, and to visualize the strange changes in human history that have taken place since they were seedlings. Long before Moses had led the Children of Israel out of Egypt, long before his brethren had carried back to their father Joseph's blood-stained coat of many colors, long even before the birth of the patriarch, whose children, and whose children's children to remotest generations the Most High promised to bless, even before the aged pyramids had reared their heads on the banks of the Nile, long centuries before the hanging gardens of Babylon had begun to grow.

Thousands of years the General Sherman tree has stood, offering its head to every passing thunder cloud; but so strong and sturdy is it that, like Ajax, it can defy the lightnings.

The wonders of the Yosemite national park are easily accessible via the Yosemite valley, where accommodations are provided for every degree of income. Desmond camps and excellent government trails enable the visitor to see the giant trees, waterfalls, and canyons, while the more adventurous, who desire to ascend Mount Lyell and its magnificent neighbors, will find entertainment in Tuolumne meadows, at the hospitable headquarters of the Sierra club, an organization of mountaineers who have revealed the Sierra to the world.

SEA'S OLD TALES

Superstitions That Are Held by Cornishmen.

Phantom Lights and Phantom Ships
Implicitly Believed In by Sailors Who Fear Nothing.

All along the Cornish shores the phantom ship is thoroughly believed in, as also are the phantom lights. Some years ago a schooner-rigged vessel made signals of distress to the west of St. Ives bay. A cable that put out reached her, and one of the seamen made a grasp at her bulwarks in order to jump on board; but his hand met nothing solid, and as he tumbled back into the boat the schooner and her sailing lights disappeared in the darkness. Next morning a schooner out of the port of London was wrecked within the same vicinity, and all on board her perished. The phantom lights are seen generally before a gale; the Cornish seamen call them "Jack Harry's lights," and the ship seen resembles the one that is subsequently wrecked.

The death ship is a superstition peculiar to Cornwall. With black hull and stumpy bowsprit, she comes in, with all her canvas set, against the wind and tide, and as she turns to reach to seaward again the doomed person dies. Most famous of the traditional stories grouping round the death ship is that of a wrecker, who lived at Tregease, beguiling vessels with false lights and doing to death those who escaped the waves. When he lay dying a black ship full rigged with all sail set was noticed coming in upon the land against the wind and tide; and as the man died she bore out to sea again in a half gale.

Porthecurno cove, near the Logan stone, has also a ship of doom. Sometimes there is seen when the mists are rising off the marshes a black square rigged craft, which stands over to Bodelan and Chygwidan and suddenly vanishes. Upon whoever sees her ill luck and death are sure to fall.

Near St. Ives, too, is a churchyard haunted by an apparition, sight of which entails disaster to seamen. In the sixties of the last century a vessel was wrecked on the coast here. The men who went off to the rescue found on board a lady with a child in her arms. She refused to part with her charge, and in drawing her by a rope from the wreck to the boat the child was lost in the raging seas. The lady died through shock and exposure and was buried in the local churchyard. Today her wraith is said to haunt the shore, whether the day or the night is tempestuous or dark or clear or fine. And on whoever sees her, he be a seafaring man, disaster falls.

The coasts of Cornwall are sacred to none in the wilderness, the variety and originality of their sea superstitions. For nowhere else in Europe has the sea taken such a toll of dead, and still takes. Only Cape Ushant, and, perhaps, the Goodwin sands off the coast of Kent, may rank behind Cornwall in the sea's colossal ledger of death and disaster.—National Marine.

Voices by Radio.
Voice transmission by radio waves has passed beyond the experimental stage. The United States bureau of standards says that it is now actually possible to telephone by wireless over as great a distance as by the ordinary wire.

It also states that the quality of the transmitted speech is as perfect as that which comes over the ordinary telephone and the same remark applies to music sent by radio. This highest scientific authority expresses a belief that before very long communication across the Atlantic by radiophone will be established on a commercial basis. When that has been accomplished, a person in Philadelphia or New York will be able at any time to call up and converse with a friend or business acquaintance in London or Paris by paying a stated and moderate rate per five minutes of talk.

Origin of Ophthalmia.
Little was known concerning the surgery of the eye in Great Britain until the expedition into Egypt under Sir Ralph Abercrombie took place following the advance of the French into the land of the pyramids led by Napoleon Bonaparte. The British troops, says the New York Medical Journal, became the victims of contagious ophthalmia, then and now widely prevalent in that country, and brought back that scourge into Great Britain. Incapacitated from further fulfilling their military duties, the disease was spread by these men throughout the length and breadth of the land. Serious study of the eye then began.

Rarely Takes Us Over Five Minutes.
"Do you ever spend half an hour before retiring thinking over what you have accomplished during the day?" queries an exchange. Why, brother, if it took us half an hour to do that, we should remain awake the rest of the night thinking what a wonderful fellow we were.—Boston Transcript.
